History

Founded in Sophia Antipolis in 1998, SAP Labs France SAS's first years were marked by SAP's successful endeavor to internationalize and broaden its development organization. Great performance and reliability of SAP Labs France employees have contributed to an excellent reputation inside the SAP Labs worldwide network.

Centre of expertise

SAP Labs France focuses on progressive research areas such as Security & Trust, and Business Intelligence. Thanks to numerous national and international cooperation agreements, SAP Labs France is a valued player in these research areas. Our research and advanced development teams bring innovation on security services for the Cloud, data protection enforcement, contextual business intelligence, novel visualization and interaction paradigms. Local collaborations with external partners and educational organizations in the region, including Inria, EURECOM, and the University of Nice Sophia Antipolis, provide strong support and resources to these research projects.

The role of SAP Services & Support has grown steadily, with a focus on the French market and the SAP Solution Manager Application management solution. SAP Labs France is also the birthplace of SAP's convergent charging solutions for the telecommunications and other industries. With the recent acquisition of Sybase France R&D and technical support, SAP Labs France has further reinforced its strengths in design and development.
