

THE BUSINESS PROCESS EXPERT COMMUNITY

BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN BUSINESS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

The Business Process Expert community at SAP uniquely bridges the gap between business and information technology, enabling business process platform adoption through collaboration.

The Business Process Expert community at SAP, the leading global business process community, examines the subject of business process management from the perspective of a comprehensive set of industries and horizontal areas. Within the community, industry experts, business and application consultants, process developers, enterprise architects, and many others engage in moderated forums, Wikis, and expert blogs to drive process innovation and solution design.

The community collaborates across company boundaries, shares ideas, develops and refines business processes, and leverages the benefits of enterprise service-oriented architecture (SOA). Through collaboration, best-practice sharing, and collective learning, the community bridges the gap between business and IT and enables business process platform adoption.
